One of the mastest and most readsble papers received at the Bazoo's table for some time is The Eye, published at Bloomington, Ill., by Geo. L. Hutchin, formerly connected with the Leader of that city. Mr. H. shows marked ability in the conduc of the several departments of the paper, and has, without doubt, made The Eye a paying piece of newsapaper property. Its typographical appearance is mainly due to the efforts of Mr. Frank Doxey, than whom there are few better printers.

The teaching and pratice of goodness for goodness' sake, without any ap peal to the religious sentiment in the matter of pure morals, appears to be stendily gaining popularity in all the secular schools. The school hoard of Birmingham, England, has provided and lately adopted a scheme for imparting practical moral instruction to precarious, indeed, and the least excitethe pupils. It provides for two half-hour lessons a week in obedience to parents, honesty, truthfulness, government of temper, courtesy, unselfishness, and other kindred moralities. It is, in fact, schooling in practical life duties here and leaves the
